A CALIFORNIAN ROBBED.—A man named Daniel Reynolds, a recently arrived Californian, now boarding at the Merchants' Hotel, on Cortnow boarding at the Merchants' Hotel, on Cortinud-st. yesterday appeared at the lower police court and preferred a complaint against a man named Smith Vale, and three females, named Fanny Vale, Majestic Franklin, and Mary Austin, charging them with robbing him of $220 in gold and bank bills, on Monday night. It appears that the complainant met the two first named girls in Broadway, and was induced to accompany them to their residence (a house of bad repute) in Thomas-st. While in a room with one of the females, Smith Vale, and the girl Austin came in, and after using abusive language ordered him to and after using abusive language ordered him to leave the house. He did so as soon as possible. But soon after getting into the street, he missed his pocket book and money. He then applied to Capt. Carpenter, of the fifth ward, for redress.—
The Capt. immediately dispatched officers King and Crolius, and succeeded in arresting the whole party. Search for the money was then made but without success. They were locked up before Justice Osborn for examination.

They were greatly exasperated when they found that the hanging was postponed for a month, and took upon themselves to do it. They succeeded in getting into the jail, and the cell door of the oldest of the murderers was broken open; but the door was so low and narrow that only one could enter at a time, and then half bent. The prisoner was in possession of a bar of iron, and with this he fractured one man's skull, and his life is despaired of, while two or three others were with this he fractured one man's surf, and the life is despaired of, while two or three others were slightly wounded. The other murderer gave himself up, but nothing was done with them. Last Friday night the excitement was very great, and there were threats to tear down the jail, but they

there were threats to tear down the jail, but they were not executed.

Gov. French, in explanation of his conduct, sent the following letter to Onslow Peters, who had, with others, remonstrated against a commution of the punishment:

Brainspire, Tuesday, Dec. 17, 1850.

Dear Sir: I have just received your letter, and thank you for the suggestions made in it.

Upon the representation made to me, that possibly circumstances might so turn up as to get hold of an older, and pethaps, equally kully participant in the crime of the boys, I have postponed the execution until the 15th of January.

I have decided equally against commutation and pardon, and leave the law to take its own course. The time showed by law, twenty days, seems short, to prepare for death, and it seems to me that it might asiely have been left to the Judge to fix the day of execution.

From a desire to afford them time to reflect well upon the doom which awaits them. I have fixed their execution for the 15th of January. It may be well to let their friendly advisers know at once that there is no hope for either commutation or pardon, and so inform the boys.

DESPERATE FIGHT.—A very serios and dangerous affray took place recently at Chattanooga, on the Tennessee River. The difficulty was between Monroe Carter, David Angelly, William Jolly,— Walker, and others, on the one part, and Jerry, Joseph and Sevier Fryer, brothers, and their friends, on the other. The parties met on Market st in the heart of the town. The weapons used were two six revolvers, a rifle, a musket, a bowie knife, an ax, grindstone, clubs, &c. Carter's party forted in Townsend & Co.'s store, and used revolvers. The battle was brief but terrible. Joseph Fryer had an eye shot out; Jerry Fryer was shot in his arm; Joseph Lovelady in his hand. Of the other party,— Walker was shot in the shoulder with musket balls, and his arm badly broke—his damage very serious. Wm. DESPERATE FIGHT .- A very serios and danger Jolly was cut on the head and neck with a bowie knife. A man not engaged in the fight, by the name of Hush, was shot in the mouth. Colonel McGallie, standing in a store opposite, had a ball lodged in the breast of his coat. Much damage was done with rocks and clubs. The parties engaged were all bound over to Court, except Angelly, who mounted a fleet horse and made his Riot.—A large number of laborers on the Chartier's Coal Railroad, came to Jones' lower ferry, on Saturday afternoon, most of them intoxicated. Some difficulty arising relative to the payment of their toll, a riot ensued, in which Mr. Nelson Jones was knocked down with a bar of iron, and severely injured, his head being badly cut, and his face disfigured. Mr. Wm. Barnes, clerk, and Wm. Grounds, steersman, were also severely beaten. The rioters then went up to Jones' upper ferry, carrying off a hat and cap belonging to personathey had beaten. At the upper ferry they threw stones at some of the bystanders, injuring one woman severely. When passing through Sligo, they raised such an uproar that the inhabitants came to their doors, upon which they assaulted several of them, and forced them to go in and lock their doors. The rioters then crossed the Monongahella bridge, and none of them have been, we believe, as yet arrested. [Pittaburgh Gaz. 6th. we believe, as yet arrested. [Pittaburgh Gaz. 6th.

DISTURBANCES IN NEW GRENADA.—Recent advices from Rio Hache, inform us that the country thereabouts was in a very unsettled state. It seems a large tribe of savage Indians from the interior infested the coast for several miles, extending themselves back into the country, with a view of robbing and murdering the citizens who are in the habit of bringing dye-woods from the interior and sea-board. Several individuals had already been murdered, and many others robbed of their mules and other property. Dyewoods of all descriptions had become scarce at Rio Hache, and it was believed when the last vessel sailed from that pert, that there would be none for shipment for the next six months. A company of New-Grenada troops were hourly expected at Rio Hache from Carthagena, but they can be of no service against so formidable a body of savagee as know to infest the whole of the adjoining country.
